28. (1)	Formation of village-forests- The State Government may assign to any village-community the rights of Government to or over any land which has been constituted a reserved forest, and may cancel such assignment. All forests so assigned shall be called village-forests.	28. Formation of village-forests- (1) (a) The State Government may constitute any forest-land or waste-land which is the property of Government or over which the Government has proprietary rights as village-forests and modify and amend such constitution of village-forests. Provided that such village forest shall exclude those areas that have already been under the claims of community under the “The Scheduled Tribes and Other Traditional Forest Dwellers (Recognition of Forest Rights), Act, 2006. (b) Such village-forests shall be managed by the community through Joint Forest Management Committee by whatever description, constituted in consultation with Gram Sabha and the Forest Department, as per the provisions prescribed by the Rule. Debate: in consultation with GS and FD or in consent with GS. (c) The Joint Forest Management Committee (JFMC) shall exercise the community forest rights in a sustainable manner in such village forests and share benefit commensurate with the efforts of such members of the JFMCs as may be prescribed by the Rules.

		(d) Power to make rules and/or issue directions: (i) The State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, make rules or issue directions/orders for carrying out the provisions of this Chapter of the Act. (ii) In particular, and without prejudice to the generality of the provisions of sub-section (1), such rules may provide measures with respect to all or any of the matters which inter alia includes manner of constituting JFMC; management plan; usufructs and other benefit sharing mechanism; rights and responsibilities of JFMC and/or user groups; nature of existing rights either by law or usage and custom having the force of law; manner of constituting any specialized user group and/or district or state level coordinating body, regulatory functions of the JFMC; financial management including generation of resources, budget and manner of utilisation of funds of the JFMC or any user group(s) constituted under this Chapter; membership of JFMC or user groups; incentive structures for better functioning of the JFMC and/or User Groups; setting up of SHGs and other micro credit enterprises for forest based activities; grievance redressal mechanism and any other rule, in so far as they are not inconsistent with provisions of this Chapter, for furthering sustainable forest management through community forest management. (e) Prior to the notification of the village-forest in accordance with the clause (a), the State Government, or an officer authorized by it on this behalf, shall determine the nature and extent of the rights of the Government or of private persons or village other than the villages to whom said forest is to be entrusted for management, and shall record the same. The village shall be represented by its Gram Sabha or any other local body such as village forest committee constituted under section 80B

		of this Act. The said notification of the village forest shall not be made unless the rights of the other villages, if any, are either extinguished or where it is not possible, two or more villages mutually agree to share the usufructory rights over the area in question and also to protect and manage the forest in question in accordance with the provisions of clause (f). Rights of individuals, if any, shall be either extinguished or recorded and provided in such manner as may be prescribed in the rules made for this purpose by the State Government. (f) The protection, management and other transactions in relation to village forest shall be the responsibility of the community and the local body such as the village forest committee or the Gram Sabha acting as the local body. The day-to-day management of the village forest may be done by an executive committee appointed by the local body. (g) The Forest officer not below the rank of Assistant Conservator of Forest may levy a compensation, not exceeding ten thousand rupees, on any person who violates any of the provisions of the rules made under sub-section (2) of section 34.B, section 76 and section 76.A for carrying out the provisions in this Chapter, provided that when such act or omission also violates any other provisions of this Act, or the rules made there under, the local body shall report the matter to the Forest-officer. Where the State Government, or an officer authorized by it on this behalf, is satisfied that the local body or the residents of the village forest are either unable to protect the village forest or to abide by the management plan prescribed for it, the State Government or the authorized officer, as the case may be, may pass orders for taking over management of the village forest.
--	--	--	--

(2)	The State Government may make rules for regulating the management of village forests, prescribing the conditions under which the community to which any such assignment is made may be provided with timber or other forest-produce or pasture, and their duties for the protection and	Provided that the State Government or the authorized officer, as the case may be, shall hear the villagers or the local body concerned, as the case may be, prior to passing such an order. (h)(i) The State Government shall define the procedure for registration of Joint Forest Management Committee and the competent authority for this purpose. The tenure of the JFMC shall be 5 years. (ii) The parameters for functioning of JFMCs shall be defined and the Registration Authority shall monitor these factors at regular intervals, to be specified by the State Government. (iii) Since the State Government is involving participation of JFMCs in forest management, which is a public ecological asset and has to be managed on long term perspective. In case of failure of implementation of stipulated provisions, conditions, encroachments, illicit felling, misuse of assets, misappropriation and other forest and wildlife crimes, etc., the State Government can appoint the competent authority to cancel the registration of JFMC. (iv) In case of cancellation of the registration of JFMC, it can submit appeal to the Appellate Authority within 60 days of the passing of the order by the Registration Authority. The Appellate Authority shall pass appropriate order within the time period of 180 days. (2) The State Government shall make rules for regulating the management of village-forests, prescribing the conditions under which the community to which any such assignment is made may be provided with timber or other forest-produce or pasture, and their duties for the protection and improvement of such

OF PROTECTED FORESTS

Section	Indian Forest Act, 1927	Proposed amendment	Comments of State/UT Government
1	2	3	4
29. (1)	Protected Forests-- The State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare the provisions of this Chapter applicable to any forest-land or waste-land which is not included in a reserved forest but which is the property of Government, or over which the Government has proprietary rights, or to the whole or any part of the forest-produce of which the Government is entitled.	29. Protected Forests-- (1)(a) The State Government may, by notification in the Official Gazette, declare the provisions of this Chapter applicable to any forest-land or waste-land which is not included in a reserved forest but which is the property of Government, or over which the Government has proprietary rights, or to the whole or any part of the forest-produce of which the Government is entitled. (b) Where the Central Government deems it essential and expedient to constitute a protected forest and where the State Government has not constituted such a protected forest, the Central Government may give directions to the State Government to constitute such a protected forest within a prescribed time and to follow the procedure laid down in this Chapter in this regard. (c) Where the Central Government deems it necessary to convey directions for management or protection of contiguous forests in a landscape approach, the Central Government may give directions to the State Government to pursue an integrated and comprehensive method of covering all land use forms, including protected areas, in a given landscape. Explanation - The landscape approach will address

	(2) The forest-land and waste-land comprised in any such notification shall be called a “protected forest”. (3) No such notification shall be made unless the nature and extent of the rights of Government and of private persons in or over the forest-land or waste-land comprised therein have been inquired into and recorded at a survey or settlement, or in such a manner as the State Government thinks sufficient. Every such record shall be presumed to be correct until the contrary is proved: Provided that, if in the case of any forest-land or waste-land the State Government thinks that such inquiry and record are necessary, but that they will occupy such length of time as in the meantime to endanger the rights of Government, the State Government may, pending such inquiry and record, declare such land to be a protected forest, but so as not to abridge or affect any existing rights of individuals or communities	conservation, sustainable use and production as well as other land-use needs, and will benefit local communities in such planning and management exercises. A landscape approach will provide for the protection of ecological stability, ensure ecosystem services processes that operate on a larger scale and longer timelines, including acting as buffers to climate changes. (2) The forest or land comprised in any such notification, specifying the situation and limits of the forest or land, shall be called a ‘protected forest’. (3) No such notification shall be made unless the nature and extent of the rights of Government and of private persons in or over the forest-land or waste-land comprised therein have been inquired into and recorded at a survey or settlement, or in such a manner as the State Government thinks sufficient. Every such record shall be presumed to be correct until the contrary is proved: provided that, if in the case of any land the State Government thinks that such inquiry and record are necessary, but that they will occupy such length of time as in the meantime to endanger the forest or biomass productivity or unduly delay the ecological revival of such land, the State Government or any officer authorized in that behalf, may, pending such inquiry and record, declare such land to be protected forest, but so as not to abridge or affect any existing rights of individuals or communities. Notwithstanding anything contained in sub-section (3), no claim or right to pasture or to forest-produce shall be admitted in such protected forest or part thereof, whenever it is preferred by a person who is a beneficiary of a village forest or part thereof so constituted under Chapter IV of this Act or beneficiary of a Joint Forest Management area under this Act.
